Dear Mike

I've now got the heaters set up and felt I should write and tell you how pleased I am with them.

They look fantastic for a start compared to the storage ones I had.

I am now on standard domestic rate and so I tested one of the old storage heaters, with my mathematical brain works the test worked out to 1 unit for yours instead of 3.33 on storage which is 70 % less electric for 62% more heat !

But I am sure you know this.

I find the heat very nice it keeps the whole room at the same temperature with no colder spots, the temperature seems to circulate really well, they have made such a difference to my house.

Wishing you both a good Christmas and healthy new year (the horses too !!)

Best Wishes

Joy Warr
